Have you owned a Nexus 6P cell phone purchased in Quebec?

LAST CHANCE TO CLAIM YOUR MONEY!

The Superior Court has approved a settlement agreement between Huawei Technologies Canada Co. Ltd. ("Huawei Canada"), Google LLC and Google Canada Corporation (collectively the "Defendants") and Mr. Tenzer, the representative plaintiff in the class action bearing file number 500-06-000913-182.

Pursuant to this agreement, the defendants paid a lump sum of $550,000 to compensate class members and to cover all costs approved by the Court.

A first claims period ended on April 11, 2022, following which a first wave of indemnities was distributed.

Considering the amounts remaining after this first distribution, we are opening a second claims period that will end on August 17, 2022.

Who can claim? All persons who own or owned a Nexus 6P bought in the province of Quebec and who have not already received an indemnity or replaced their battery from Huawei as part of the first distribution may still be compensated if they claim by August 17, 2022.

How much do you get? If you can prove that you own or have owned a Nexus 6P purchased in Quebec, you could receive $10. If you can also prove that the battery of your cell phone discharges or was discharging prematurely, you could receive up to $500.

How do I make a claim? You must complete the online claim form on the Administrator's website www.action-nexus6p.ca. Your claim must be received by the Administrator no later than August 17, 2022.
